Shot-quality grid: where the chances come from

Attacking third divided into 6 x 5 zones (flanks cropped to the shooting corridor). Total xG accumulates in the zone the shot was taken from. High xG in a low-shot-count zone means a few very good chances rather than sustained pressure. Data provided by StatsBomb.